"August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's August Flower. Well, we can't make you. We can't force conviction into your head or medicine into your throat. We don't want to. The money is yours, and the misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 1122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: "My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit down to a meal but she had to vomit it as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors failed. She can now eat anything, and enjoy it; and as for Dyspepsia, she does not know that she ever had it."

A Postage Stamp Museum.

At Vienna a postage stamp museum has been opened to the public. The museum will be open to visitors daily and gratuitously. In one room are shown chronologically all stamps of which specimens exist from 1840 to 1891. Among the postal curiosities shown are balloon letters, pigeon post and submarine post letters as they were sent during the siege of Paris in 1870.

A collection of forged stamps is also very interesting to the collector. Among the curious objects shown are letters of the Anthropophagi in the Dutch Indies, pieces of wood covered with hieroglyphic and postcards which have made the tour of the world. For one of these with a penny stamp, which took 119 days to return to its starting point, an offer of 1,000 florins has been made.

There is also a case with a collection of all the coins struck during the Emperor Francis Joseph's reign. The finest object in the collection is believed to be a Danda stamp, worth £500, and a Cape of Good Hope stamp valued at £100. The exhibition comprises 3,000,000 stamps and other objects connected with the post.—London Queen.

Wrote Female Attire All His Life.

Many examples are known of women dressing as men, but until lately no case has been known of a man going about disguised as a woman. A man named Sigol, seventy-two years old, employed as a cook, was taken to the hospital of Saint Antoine, Paris, suffering from gastritis. Mistaken, on account of his dress, for a woman, he was taken to the ward reserved for members of the weaker sex. When they found out the mistake he was put into another ward.

The strangest thing about the whole case is that Sigol says that he never wore male attire excepting on the day he was examined by the conseil de revision in order to determine whether he was fit for military service. When he was seventeen years old he went as a servant girl to a farm in Lin-sur-Mer. He remained there eleven years. He learned to cook at Caen and went to Paris, where he was employed as cook for forty years either in private families or in boys' schools.—Paris Letter.

Uniforms for Employees.

A Bristol storekeeper donned a white duck coat, and was so pleased with the effect that he ordered all of his employees to wear white duck coats during business hours. Rather than obey the order two of the clerks quit work. Nevertheless, uniforming goes on among store girls, judges, railroad hands, waiters and indeed in almost every occupation where it is desirable that the public should recognize the employees. The mistake of confusing a customer for a clerk has led to rather embarrassing situations in many a store, and clerks who object to being uniformed have the satisfaction of knowing that without their uniforms they cannot be distinguished from their employers.—Philadelphia Inquirer

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for Washoe county. The State of Nevada sends to Anna Stout greeting. You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Joseph Stout as plaintiff in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county; or, twenty days if served out of said county; but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to obtain the judgment and decree of this Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between you and said plaintiff on the ground of habitual gross drunkenness contracted since said marriage. All of which more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand at Reno, this 12th day of August, A. D. 1891.

THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE last Winter passed an act which provides that all prisoners, convicted of murder, shall be taken to the State Prison at San Quentin and there be hanged by the Warden. At the time of the passage of the act there were eighteen murderers under sentence of death in the State of California. Those persons had been sentenced to be executed by the sheriff of the county in which they had been tried and convicted. Now counsel for one of the condemned criminals raises the point that his client, having been sentenced to be executed in the county jail in San Francisco, by the sheriff, cannot be taken to San Quentin to be executed by the Warden of the State Prison.

It is urged that under the old law a person sentenced to be executed in his own county could be visited by his friends and his attorney, whereas under the new law those persons could not visit him, unless at heavy cost, and that would be practically adding to his punishment. If the Supreme Court holds that the new law does increase the punishment, and is therefore unconstitutional, it is believed that each and all of the eighteen murderers sentenced before the passage of the new law will escape the gallows. As the new law repeals the old law, it is contended that they cannot be executed at all, and as they have not been sentenced to imprisonment for life it is doubtful if they can be held in jail. It is possible, however, to settle that question by having their sentences commuted from death to life imprisonment.

A THIEF INVESTIGATING THIEVERY.
The State Treasurer of Arkansas adopted the Pennsylvania system of disposing of the money entrusted to his keeping, and applied several thousand dollars to his own use without warrant of auditor or of law. When his theft was discovered an expert named Bay was employed by the bondsmen of the defaulting treasurer, to examine his books and accounts. Bay, while he was making the investigation, thought he saw an opportunity to do some stealing on his own account and charge it to the defaulting treasurer. He therefore proceeded to carry out the idea and appropriated about $100,000, more or less, of State scrip. The present State Treasurer suspected that Bay was not performing the duty assigned him strictly in accordance with law, so he watched and waited until he discovered that the expert was stealing the bonds. Yesterday he swore out a warrant charging Bay with stealing $100,000 in State scrip, and had him arrested. As might be expected the disclosure has created considerable excitement at Little Rock as Bay was supposed to be reliable, and it was not known that the bondsmen of the defaulting treasurer had engaged a thief to investigate the accounts of a thief.

J. V. Brower, State Park Commissioner of Minnesota, has made a report upon the Lake Itasca basin, and the sources of the Mississippi river. It effectually explodes Glazier's claim to the title of discoverer of the headwaters of the great river. The report shows that the true source of the Mississippi is in a great reservoir, nine miles above Lake Itasca, making the longest surface channel of the Mississippi from the Gulf of Mexico to the extreme limit of this reservoir, 2,555 1/2 miles.

Professor Woodhall, the aeronaut, was advertised to make a balloon ascension at Tacoma, Washington. He was too ill to make the trip and his assistant, Johnson, made the attempt. Before doing so he drank whisky to strengthen his nerves and at a height of about 2,000 feet, he began to perform gymnastic feats on the horizontal bar of the parachute. He lost his grip on the bar and fell to the earth a bleeding mass of flesh and bones.

More Rain at Redlands.
Special to the Journal.
SAN BERNARDINO, August 17.—Storms are raging daily in the mountains east of this city. Yesterday it rained several hours at Cucamonga, but not here. This afternoon heavy storms with thunder and lightning were noted in the mountains coming down into the valley above Redlands, and at 3:30 a large body of water came down Mill Creek and through Redlands, washing out the Redlands motor road in several places, and doing some damage on the Barton tract. It is now generally believed that these continued storms and snitry weather, which have lasted since July 1st, with one short interval, has been the result of the flooding of the Colorado desert. If this continues permanently it will result in more water in the mountains for irrigation purposes, but the summer climate will be less pleasant.

Wheat Excitement in New York. Special to the Journal.

New York, August 17.—Panicum reigned at the wheat pit at the opening of the Produce Exchange this morning. Excited brokers could not restrain themselves until the Board opened, but for half an hour previous, were climbing over each others' shoulders in the pit yelling and howling wildly, and waving their arms like a herd of savages. Cables reported the European markets opening at from 1 to 3 1/2 cents above Saturday's closing prices, and these reports supplemented by previous reports from Chicago. When the gong sounded all sorts of conflicting rumors were yelled out. Finally 1.15 drowned out all others and this was marked down as the opening price, December wheat being one-eighth higher than Saturday's close. Within half an hour after the opening a receiver set in and the figures advanced and declined with astonishing rapidity. Then there was a lull, December closing at 1.18 and later reports opening prices and December wheat showed that it sold up as high as 1.18. Different prices prevailed at the same time in the pit.

The Chinese Habeas Corpus Case.
Special to the Journal.
SAN FRANCISCO, August 17.—The habeas corpus case of Lou En Bew, one of the Chinese passengers who arrived here last week on the steamship Oceanic, was postponed in the Circuit Court to-day for one week. The petitioner was refused landing on arrival here on the strength of the decision of the United States Supreme Court, rendered by Judge Field, to the effect that any Chinese returning to this country must have certificates from the Chinese Government establishing their identity as a merchant. The Collector to-day received a telegram from acting Secretary Nettleton of the Treasury Department, stating that all Chinese who may have gone from the United States under instructions contained in the department's circular of July 30, 1890, may be admitted on return to this country under the conditions prescribed in said circular, providing the Collector is satisfied of the identity of the returning Chinese. It is believed under these modified rulings that the majority of the 170 Chinese brought here by the Oceanic will be allowed to land.

The Market in Chicago.
Special to the Journal.
CHICAGO, August 17.—This is another banner day in wheat. When business began the familiar howl went up, and it was impossible for a while to tell what was being done. December wheat opened at 1.09 and went steadily up to 1.14. Suddenly it became known that several houses with foreign connections had in orders and were selling heavily. This was enough. If there had been wildness in previous buying, there was little short of insanity in selling in the craze which followed, and December dropped. After an hour of sawing it declined to 1.04 1/2; then advanced to 1.06 1/2, and the excitement quieted down. Then many 'longs became panic stricken. Early buyers turned to sellers; bears pushed, and December dropped with the rush, finally closing at 1.03 1/2. Old traders sold the rapidly and wild range of fluctuations to-day exceeded anything seen on the board.

The Wheat Market in San Francisco.
Special to the Journal.
SAN FRANCISCO, August 17.—The excitement which has prevailed in the Eastern grain market for several days past, has had the effect of stimulating business on local change, and wheat quotations have ruled considerably higher. Local dealers, however, state that so far as the market here is concerned, the freight rate is against any further gain in wheat and prices are considered too high now. Crops are large and fully a million and a half tons will be available for shipment. Shippers are well supplied at figures lower than speculative quotations. The wheat buyer this year opened at 1.70 1/4 per cental this morning, closing this afternoon at 1.71, being the highest point touched during the day. The buyer season opened at 1.76 1/4, closing steady at 1.77 1/4.

Will Leave for Foreign Shores.
Special to the Journal.
VALLEJO, August 17.—A number of boiler makers went to work on the Pensacola Saturday. Lieutenant J. K. Patch is now navigating officer of the Charleston. The crew of the Charleston was busy Sunday coating the ship. The cruiser will leave the yard Wednesday. The Pensacola was taken into the stone dock to-day. The repairs will be finished Thursday, when she will sail for Honolulu.

Forest Fires Raging.
Special to the Journal.
OROVILLE, Cal., August 17.—Forest fires have been raging for several days near Harleton and Enterprise, and to-day it is approaching Forestown, and some danger is feared. About one hundred miles have been burned over.

A BLUFFER BLUFFED.
Africa Master of the Situation.
A correspondent of the JOURNAL writes: "Usually quiet old Washoe City was startled into life Sunday by what looked for awhile might be a tragedy. A fair-haired youth, who, from his own talk one would suppose was as brave as the proverbial lion, turns out to be as meek as a two weeks' old lamb. Sunday a discussion arose between this same youth and a son of Africa. After breaking chairs, beer glasses, etc., over each others' heads, guns were drawn; two shots were taken at an inoffensive porch roof by the youth, who wished to convince people he was a crack shot. Just then the negro put in an appearance armed with a Winchester. The fair haired youth took to his heels and left the colored man master of the situation. It isn't always well to run a 'bluff.' You sometimes meet men who will see you and 'go you one better,' as in this case."

The Indian delegation, consisting of eight Chayennes and four Arapahoes, one of the latter a woman, returned last night from Walker lake, where they had been to see the Messiah. Two of the leaders, named respectively "Bear Behind" and "Black Bull," had credentials from the Chief of the Indian Bureau. They were disappointed at the size of the Messiah, who, they said, was not much bigger than the squaw who accompanied them.

The Eureka Sentinel says Jerry Ahearn has made arrangements for the purchase of the Cornhill mine on White Pine mountain which is now yielding about $500 per day, with six men employed. The ore is gray carbonate, going over 60 per cent lead and from $20 to $29 per ton in silver and gold.

The bulls and the bears are having a rough and tumble fight in the Chicago, St. Louis, New York and Minneapolis wheat markets. The wildest excitement prevails, and as some make money others lose proportionately, and failures of operators are expected.

Several of the nine justices of the supreme court now occupy their own houses in Washington, and the other two, the new Justices Brown and Brewer, will soon be similarly situated.

When in the country you may imagine that you help the haymakers by jabbing the horses with the pitchfork and getting tangled up in the reins, but you do not, and they will probably tell you so.

A Horse's Walk on a High Trestle.
A strange scene was witnessed recently on the Northern Pacific trestle at the water works. The trestle is about 800 feet long and 55 feet high. Under it is the Union Pacific roadbed. The ties are about eight inches apart and are evenly distributed the entire distance.

At an early hour the attention of a dozen people was attracted by a large sorrel horse which had walked along the trestle from the south and was unaware of the danger ahead. He was unable to turn around and had fully 500 feet yet to travel. The spectators were struck with awe, expecting every moment to see the animal dashed to atoms by a fall. Now fully mindful of his danger, it was remarkable to note the instinct with which the animal stepped cautiously from one tie to another.

He had just reached that part of the trestle above the Union Pacific roadbed when he became dazed and missed his footing. His hind feet caught in the tie and threw him, so that the rear portion of his body overhung the framework of the immense bridge, while he held himself by his fore feet. The scene was a sickening one, and the spectators looked every moment for the fatal fall. Suddenly, with a powerful lunge, the animal threw his body toward the trestle and managed to regain his feet.

Again he started on his perilous walk, and when within a few feet of the end of the bridge fell again and was caught in much the same manner. Martin Scully started to the assistance of the animal with a rope, but the horse was so close to terra firma that he made an effort to regain his feet and fell to the sloping bank, just a short distance below. He then rolled down the bank for about twenty-five feet. His mouth and hoof were badly bruised in the struggle, but otherwise he was uninjured.—Olympic (Wash.) Tribune.

Miss Marsdon's Progress.
Kate Marsdon proceeded as far as Omsk in search of a plant which is said to cure leprosy. Thanks to the personal protection extended by the czarina, and her generous contribution of money, Miss Marsdon and her woman companion were courteously treated during their long and tedious sledge ride, and reached Omsk after many difficulties in safety, but both completely exhausted and very ill. Miss Marsdon will go on to Jakutland, thence continue her journey by ship down the Lena.—St. Petersburg Letter.
